

Who this course is for

The Living from Grace program is designed both for people with established healing practices and anyone interested in personal growth and transformation. There are no set pre-requisites: you are a good candidate if you have committed to your own healing journey. A tremendous amount of self-healing occurs during the course—and self-healing opens many doors to how we express our selves in our home and work lives. Some students will have healing work experience. A few people will have actual healing practices established. You may want to use the information professionally in other ways—or just in your personal life. Please contact Michèle for the course curriculum or any other questions.

Living from Grace

Living From Grace is a two-year program that integrates traditional psychology with spirituality and in-depth healing practices. Developed by Donna Evans Strauss as a series of four-day workshops, four times a year, it explores a range of methodologies and co-creative processes for helping ourselves and our clients to transform our lives. Students will practice hands-on healing techniques as well as doing extensive course work.
